

2nd Annual Nolan Fowler
Constitution Day

“Now More than Ever:”

Expanding, Protecting and Contracting Civil Liberties in Wartime

presented by:

Professor Mark Graber

Tuesday, 19 September 2006

7:00 PM

Derryberry Auditorium

Professor Graber is recognized as one of the leading scholars in the country on constitutional law and politics. He is the author of Rethinking Abortion (Princeton University Press) and Transforming Free Speech (University of California Press). His most recent book is Dred Scott and the Problem of Constitutional Evil. Professor Graber is the author of scores of articles, including “Naked Land Transfers and American Constitutional Development”, published in the Vanderbilt Law Review and “Resolving Political Questions into Judicial Questions: Tocqueville’s Aphorism Revisited”, published by Constitutional Commentary.

