

Civil & Environmental Engineering Department
CEE Advisory Board – New Graduate Giving Campaign
Have your gift matched!

The CEE Advisory Board congratulates our newest graduates on joining the ranks of proud TTU Civil & Environmental Engineering alumni. Recognizing that continuous alumni involvement helps sustain a vibrant civil and environmental engineering program, the CEE Advisory Board would like to assist you in making a direct impact on the positive student experience of future CEE students at Tennessee Tech. Many times, new graduates feel that their financial support will not have a significant impact on the program, and therefore postpone the decision to pay forward the positive opportunities gained from their time as a CEE major at Tennessee Tech. Collectively, gifts of any size can make a great impact on the quality of the CEE program. Some improvements made possible by past alumni gifts include, upgrading and maintaining laboratory equipment and computers in the CEE computer lab, and supplementing travel expenses associated with ASCE student competitions.

The CEE Advisory Board wants to “double” the positive impact that your gift will have on the TTU Civil & Environmental Engineering program. If as a new graduate of the CEE Department, you will make a gift of at least $10 to the Civil & Environmental Engineering department for both of the first two years post graduation, the CEE Advisory Board will match $1 for $1 ($50 annual maximum match) your gift for the first two consecutive years after graduation. We also want you to be recognized for many years to come for having gotten an early start at giving back to your alma-mater. “True 2 Tech” is an existing donor recognition society established by the Development Office at Tennessee Tech. It is intended to recognize those alumni who consistently demonstrate loyalty to their alma-mater by way of providing financial support for consecutive years. Each year you continue to give, you are recognized for the number of years you have consecutively given to Tennessee Tech, no matter the monetary amount.

Please take advantage of this unique opportunity to “double” the impact of your gift and get a “jump start” on your “True 2 Tech” membership. Get started today:
