

In this talk I will continue on topics covered in the previous Graduate Seminar talk (April 18, 2019). I will briefly review what I said previously and present some new results related to the geometric property of Banach spaces called the Extreme Local Diameter 2 Property (every slice of the unit ball has diameter 2 which is attained).