Assessment 1: Course Designations (enrollment)

Goal/ Outcome/ Objective:

Goals/Outcomes/Objectives 1 and 2

Type of Tool:

Rubric,Other

Frequency of Assessment:

Annual

Rationale:

Assessments and Analysis: Course Designation and Registration: faculty, upon development of their syllabus for the following semesters, report course designations to their deans. These are designations, not only based on the concentration and department, but are now also based on high impact practices that may be used within their courses during that semester (Ex: Service Learning, Study Abroad, Work Based Learning, Internships, Etc.). The deans report this to enrollment for registration record. This is where Service Learning Involved courses are collected now. The University Service Center no longer relied on faculty response to campus-wide surveys. It is part of their course submission process in their respective departments.
